

MILESTONES

CPYRGHT

Died. Desmond FitzGerald, 57, CIA Deputy Director for Plans (meaning the agency's operational branch, with its overseas agents and paramilitary organizations), an urbane onetime Wall Street corporation lawyer who became the CIA's Latin American chief in the shake-up following the Bay of Pigs debacle, took over the plans department last year; of a heart attack while playing tennis; in The Plains, Va.